VOL. XXI.—NO. 6205. PORTLAND, OREGON: MONDAY, MARCH 7, 1881. PRICE—TEN CENTS

THE NEW CABINET.

James G. Blaine the Secretary of State.

THE SON OF LINCOLN AS WAR MINISTER

A Full Cabinet Nominated and Confirmed Saturday—Comment by the Leading Journals of Both Parties throughout the Nation

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—President Garfield has sent to the senate the following nominations:

James G. Blaine, of Maine, secretary of state.

William Windom, of Minnesota, secretary of the treasury.

Wayne McVeagh, of Pennsylvania, attorney general.

Thos. L. James, of New York, postmaster general.

Samuel J. Kirkwood, of Iowa, secretary of the interior.

Robert T. Lincoln, of Illinois, secretary of war.

William H. Hunt, of Louisiana, secretary of the navy.

The senate received the nominations at 1:30 P. M. and immediately on motion of Cameron of Pennsylvania went into executive session. When the senate went into executive session Senators Blaine, Windom and Kirkwood left the chamber and did not return to it.

The cabinet nominations being laid before the senate, Cameron suggested that their consideration be deferred to await the appointment of committees. Upon this suggestion a colloquial discussion ensued in regard to precedents, and after it had progressed some time, there being no dissent as to the propriety of confirming these senatorial nominations without reference to committee, the three members of the senate were unanimously confirmed.

A long debate followed in regard to the propriety of taking immediate action upon the remaining nominations. Conkling and Davis of Illinois contended that these important matters ought not to be excepted from ordinary practice and operation of the rule, but that they required examination and a report by some committee on every nomination submitted to the senate. Senators Pendleton, Beck and Voorhees took ground that appointments of this kind, unless objectionable by reason of defects of moral character, ought to be confirmed immediately, and Beck remarked to his colleagues on the democratic side of the chamber that if they desire to go out of power and remain out for 20 years they might try the effect of delaying the confirmation of the son of Abraham Lincoln. At the termination of the debate, which was not addressed at any time to the merits of the nominations, they were separately confirmed without a roll call or a dissenting vote in any instance. Mr. Voorhees made the motion upon which Secretary Lincoln was confirmed, and it is stated that Attorney General McVeagh was confirmed on motion of Senator Cameron.

Gossip about the Cabinet and its Selection.

Mr. Blaine this afternoon mailed Gov. Plaisted his resignation as U. S. senator, to take effect this day. He also mailed his resignation to the speaker of the Maine house of representatives. Both communications should be received next Monday, which will enable the legislature to elect his successor on the second Tuesday following. Senator Windom will delay signing his resignation until Monday next as the Minnesota legislature adjourns to day, and the governor will then have unquestionably the power to appoint his successor immediately, whereas a resignation dated on a day when the legislature was in session, although not received until after adjournment, might give rise to doubts as to the governor's power to appoint.

The secretaryship of the treasury was formally tendered Allison and after taking all night to consider he declined yesterday because of ill health of Mrs. Allison. He feared that the social duties that would be imposed upon her might be fatal to her. This declination somewhat demolished the cabinet slate.

Senator Windom when first offered the treasury portfolio, declined it. Then, when Allison declined, Windom was again urged to accept it and did so. Windom said to several senators this morning that his only regret was at leaving the senate.

Senator Blaine said to-day that strange as it might sound the great difficulty in the formation of the cabinet was in finding men adapted to positions who would accept; that there had been a number of declinations.

PRESS COMMENTS ON THE CABINET

From the New York Times.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Times says: That Windom's presence in the cabinet will give lively satisfaction to a large body of active and earnest republicans there can be no possible doubt. Windom's selection as secretary of the treasury will satisfy not only republicans but also numerous organizations which are gradually hardening into a party and which including greenbackers, republicans and democrats, has for its principle the platform of the anti-monopoly league. Of James as postmaster general it is only necessary to say that he is the right man in the right place. The appointment of Wayne McVeagh as attorney general, has double merit, being evidence of the president's approval of the best type of political independence, and of his appreciation of genuine ability and force of character. Kirkwood has a very respectable record of efficiency. Judge Hunt represents the highest type of native southern republicanism. He is fearless, honest and statesmanlike. Robert Lincoln inherits a name which the American people can never cease to reverence, and according to the testimony of his friends has untried ability which will do no discredit to his father's memory.

From the World.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The World says: The presidential mountain in labor has brought forth a litter of cabinet mice. Two men alone of positive strength and weight should be exempted from this verdict, Blaine and James. If we set aside Blaine a representative of the most energetic and progressive element of the republican party, and James as a representative of administrative experience, the remaining offices are so filled as to nullify the value of the cabinet either for the republican party or for public administration. The World considers the appointment of Windom unfit and amazing.

From the Herald.

The Herald says that the cabinet is a body of vigorous men, most of them young. Windom, James, Lincoln, Blaine and McVeagh are all in the prime and vigor of manhood. We can not call it an able cabinet, by no means as able as Hayes. We should say that Blaine is the one man of genius.

The Sun's Opinion.

The Sun after referring to each member of the new cabinet, says: It is evident that the cabinet is not of the Conkling stripe. The New York senator gets only the husks. These are very wholesome fodder but not so fattening as corn. Col. James appears on the surface to be a Conkling appointment, but it is understood that Blaine's bosom friend, McPherson of Pennsylvania, is to be first assistant postmaster general and to control the patronage in Blaine's interest, so that the kernel of that appointment will be [illegible] by the secretary of state. We shall give Gen. Garfield and the new cabinet a fair show.

The Chicago Tribune on the Cabinet.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The Tribune says: The composition of the cabinet will afford general satisfaction. It meets all the requirements of locality, it has a high average of ability, unquestioned integrity and in its collective capacity a very unusual experience of public affairs and knowledge of the duties pertaining to the several offices. Mr. Blaine is in one sense a national character. He is an eastern man with a western temperament. Mr. Windom in point of ability ranks high and is a sound and clear headed thinker. The appointment of Mr. Blaine and Mr. Windom may be accepted as committing the new administration thoroughly to the support of the double standard and actively employing the influence of the republic to extend it over Europe and America. Mr. Lincoln possesses all the qualifications for a good executive officer and is better fitted for the war office than most of those who have held it. It was a graceful thing for General Garfield to honor the son of the great Illinoisan, and the people of Illinois will thank him for it. Mr. James will bring to the post office department the highest order of fitness. He will not delegate his duties to assistants. He will rip open the rotten, foul and extravagant "star" service, and repair the mischief that [illegible] through gross negligence permitted to be done. On the whole the cabinet should be regarded as a fair compromise between all the various elements of the party.

The Chicago Times.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The Times discussing the new cabinet says: In the geographical distribution of the new cabinet General Garfield has been generous to the northwest. Illinois has been recognized by the appointment of Mr. Robert Lincoln; Windom of Minnesota, as secretary of the treasury, in some respects the most important office in the government. Mr. Windom's chief recommendation for the place seems to have been found in the fact that the delegation of his state voted for him in the Chicago convention. Some of those who are familiar with his ancient history are inclined to doubt the sufficiency of this reason for the assignment to him of so important a department.

Mr. Kirkwood of Iowa was chosen it is said because Mr. Allison of the same state declined this office. That does not seem to be entirely conclusive, but as no better reason has been mentioned, it may be the true one.

Ohio Views.

CINCINNATI, March 6.—The republicans express satisfaction with the making of the cabinet. The leaving out of Foster is regarded as a presidential matter. It is believed that Foster acquiesced in this necessity.

The Commercial says that the formation of the cabinet is a happy solution of a somewhat difficult problem. Leaving Foster out was wise, as to select him would look too much like the president was providing for a second term. The appointment of James as postmaster general is strong. While the president has not asserted himself strongly, he has secured a finely balanced cabinet and one with strength enough for any probable emergency.

The Enquirer says Garfield has shown ingratitude in failing to appoint Foster, and that Blaine will be the controlling power in the cabinet.

From the Boston Herald.

BOSTON, March 6.—The Herald says of the cabinet [illegible] that it is certainly inferior to the cabinet of President Hayes in important respects, though composed of personally highly respectable gentlemen and therefore not likely to lower the tone of the administration. It, however, regards the cabinet strong on personal qualities, and one that will compare favorably with most of the [illegible] of the recent presidents. James' appointment, the Herald says, is one to be unreservedly approved. Perhaps beyond any other man in the country he is the fittest for the postoffice [illegible] upon the others. It takes [illegible] the appointment of McVeagh, which as a recognition of the independents is decidedly too small a sop for the size of the whole.

From the Springfield Republican.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 6.—The Republican says: Garfield's cabinet is not as good as he [illegible]. It is mediocre, spotty and full [illegible]. Blaine is an unsafe man to dominate such an administration. Windom, for secretary of the treasury, is a shock to the business men and interests of the country. He has been wrong on all financial questions. Under Garfield he will do perhaps. Lincoln is a passenger, not an oarsman. James for postmaster general is the first happy stroke and the best appointment. McVeagh for attorney general is almost equally good. Kirkwood for the interior is also a good appointment, but the cabinet as a whole does not compare with that of Hayes.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Comment by the Tribune.

The Tribune says: President Garfield's inaugural address is short, straight, strong and sharp like a Roman sword. The emancipation and enfranchisement of the colored race the address treats with mingled firmness and kindness of spirit worthy of Abraham Lincoln himself. The passage which relates to this subject is brief, but it will be long remembered and quoted as a powerful vindication in the light of the broadest statesmanship and largest experience of policy which the republican party has pursued. The address is admirable. It justifies the high confidence which the people have felt in President Garfield's patriotism and uprightness and in his ability to propose a wise policy for government. With him it still remains to show whether he possesses tact, patience and practical statesmanship to get things done. If so the nation will manifest its gratitude four years hence as heartily as it now manifests its good will and confidence.

The Times.

The Times says: The address of Gen. Garfield in taking the oath of office was dignified in tone and marked by characteristics which made him one of the most pleasing and most admired orators of the house. The president enforced in an emphatic manner the essential fact that the struggle for supremacy of the nation was a struggle for complete development of the ideas which laid the foundation of American government, and that its supreme achievement was the destruction of slavery and establishment of equal rights under the law of the negro race. The president's remarks upon financial questions, that must engage the attention of his administration, will for the most part give satisfaction. They indicate that in his new position he will give neither aid nor sympathy to mischievous or ignorant attacks upon the national banking system which was carried to such an advanced point in the closing hours of the session of the house. In regard to the proper course of the U. S. government on the silver question the views of the president are not so clearly defined.

Criticism of "The World."

The World comments on that portion of the inaugural which asserts the duty of the United States in the inter oceanic canal question. Of the remainder of the message the World says: It does not give us the least clue beyond the one we had before as to the general course of Garfield's administration, nor can it have been intended to furnish such a clue.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

Policy of the Party in the Matter of Senate Reorganization Considered.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The democratic senators held a caucus this afternoon at which a committee consisting of Pendleton, Davis (W. Va.), Hill (Ga.), Harris, Garland, Ransom, Farley, Lamar and Cockrell was appointed to arrange the minority membership of committees. The republicans are to be accorded four members out of nine or three out of seven according to the total number of senators in each committee. Democratic senators who by rule or promotion may be entitled to chairmanships of two or more committees will be given their choice, and new senators will be assigned vacancies thus or otherwise created. The caucus decided to retain the present [illegible] of the senate. Pendleton was elected chairman of the caucus, vice Wallace, whose senatorial term expired yesterday. There were [illegible] at to-day's meeting of the advisability of deferring [illegible] the senate until [illegible] vacancies in its membership, and [illegible] knowledge of the attitude of Senator Mahone shall positively determine what basis of organization may be relied upon as permanent. A motion for adjournment of the senate to the 17th inst. will probably be offered by some democratic member next Monday and it is thought quite possible that the proposed adjournment may be ordered.

The democratic caucus this afternoon decided to confirm the cabinet promptly, and to maintain the old organization of the senate. The rule of promotion is to be observed in committees and vacant chairmanships left by old senators choosing better chairmanships will be filled by new senators. Organization will be postponed until Monday.

INSANE ASYLUM BURNED

At Danville, Pennsylvania—Five Hundred Inmates Removed Without Accident. Loss, $600,000.

DANVILLE, Pa., March 6.—The main building of the state hospital for the insane at this place caught fire last night in an unoccupied ward in the east wing, which was being repainted. The condition of roads was such that assistance from this place, a mile and a half distant, could not be rendered until the fire had gained great headway. A steam fire engine belonging to this borough was dragged through deep snow by six horses, but soon after going into service it was rendered useless by breaking some of its machinery. Assistance was telegraphed for from different towns in the vicinity, but before it could be furnished the whole wing and the main building was destroyed, a portion of the latter having been blown up for the purpose of saving the west wing. At about 6 o'clock this morning the fire was thought to be under control, but again broke out and this afternoon reached the west wing. The hospital was supplied with water from a large reservoir, but it was impossible to get a sufficient force on [illegible] of avail. Nearly five hundred patients were in the institution, all of whom were removed without confusion or loss of life to detached buildings in the rear of the main building. At the time the fire was discovered the inmates were in the hospital chapel at evening service and this circumstance assisted in keeping the unfortunates under control and together. Most of them will be distributed to other state institutions until some arrangements can be made for their care here. The building was in process of erection for eleven years, and cost the state about $600,000. It was a substantial structure built of stone, 1140 feet front, with a center building and three sections on either side, covering an area of one and three quarters of an acre. The fire showed a faulty construction of the roof in not having fire walls above the roof between different sections; the fire spread nearly the whole length of the building along the roof. The origin of the fire is unknown. There is an insurance of about $250,000 on hospital and furniture.

This afternoon the firemen succeeded in saving a portion of the west wing consisting of 8 or 10 wards and a number of male patients have been returned to it. The attaches of the hospital made no attempt to fight the fire but devoted all their energies to removing patients, some of whom became intensely excited and were removed with great difficulty, considering the fire a great treat. Several inmates escaped from the keepers. One was found at Bloomsburg 17 miles away. A number of patients were taken away to-day by friends and it is expected that more will be called for to-morrow. Several steamers are still playing on the ruins, which have been visited by thousands of people from the surrounding country. There were about 500 persons in the building when the fire broke out.

SOUTH AFRICA

The War with the Boers.

MOUNT PROSPECT, March 5.—A report which reached here that Standerton had capitulated is not confirmed, but there has been heavy fighting in that direction.

LONDON, Mar. 5.—A dispatch from the Cape reports that President Brand of the Orange free state has a telegram from the Boer commander Joubert sent through General Wood, declaring that the Boers share the desire to prevent further bloodshed but it rests with England alone to stay hostilities. The Boers are simply defending themselves against attack. They are willing to accept all efforts Brand may make to promote peace, provided they do not conflict with their resolution to acquire freedom.

Troops to Fight the Boers.

The seventh dragoons, 13th hussars and two battalions of artillery, will be sent from England to Transvaal.

Gen. Roberts Starts for the Transvaal.

Gen. Roberts and wife left for South Africa this morning.

Peace with the Boers.

LONDON, March 6.—It is stated that the cabinet council Saturday settled terms of peace with the Boers which were telegraphed to Gen. Wood last night.

Slavery in Cuba.

MADRID, March 5.—A committee of the chamber of deputies for the protection of slavery in Cuba has proposed abolition, corporal punishment and enfranchisement of all slaves not included in the registration of 1870. The colonial minister has promised to take the recommendations of the committee into consideration.

WASHINGTON CITY.

How President Garfield Spent Sunday.

FIRST CABINET MEETING OF THE NEW ADMINISTRATION.

List of Pacific Coast Measures Left Over—Meeting of the National Republican Committee, etc., etc.

SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—A special meeting of the cabinet was held to-day. Present: Secretaries Evarts, Ramsey, Schurz, Postmaster General Maynard, Attorney General Devens and acting Secretary of the Treasury French. President Garfield informed the cabinet he would probably send to the senate at about 3 o'clock a list of nominations comprising the select of his cabinet. In making this announcement the president spoke very feelingly, assuring the gentlemen present that it caused him sincere regret to part with their valuable services. Referring to their respective resignations, which had all been tendered, the president hoped that each one would do him the kindness to remain in his position until his successor should qualify, which would probably be several days. After some further remarks of this [illegible] the president inquired after the [illegible] of the several departments in general. [illegible] matter of importance brought to the attention of the meeting was [illegible] by acting Secretary French, being a report [illegible] at the treasury department that they may be allowed to [illegible] with bonds withdrawn and take out of the treasury legal tender deposited for retirement of circulation. The subject was discussed to some extent without conclusion.

The First Day of the New Administration.

The several departments closed at noon to-day. The executive mansion has been surrounded all day by a large crowd anxious to see the president. A reception of about two hours was held by President Garfield this morning. The executive departments were crowded with visitors, and various organizations are marching to and from Pennsylvania avenue.

Calling on the President.

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—To-night members of the army of the Cumberland called on President Garfield [illegible], among whom were Generals A. McD. McCook, W. B. Hazen, [illegible] Lefevre and Captain [illegible]. A large number of [illegible] paid their respects.

President Garfield at Church.

President Garfield and Mrs. Garfield attended the Vermont avenue Christian church. Long before the hour fixed for service it was evident the church could not hold the crowd. At 11 o'clock the edifice was crowded and hundreds of people were compelled to go away without gaining an entrance. No allusion whatever was made to the presence of President Garfield [illegible].

Ministry Gossip.

[illegible] minister [illegible] Morton takes the [illegible] mission. General S. H. Hurlbut of Illinois has been prominently mentioned for minister to Mexico. [illegible] will be left undisturbed [illegible]. Edward McPherson [illegible] the first assistant postmastership [illegible] assistant postmaster general and [illegible] Indian commissioner.

Failure of the Apportionment Bill.

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—The apportionment bill which passed the house late yesterday was not taken up by the senate and thus failed to become a law.

Legal Tender Withdrawal.

Acting Secretary French [illegible] departments regarding the withdrawal of legal tenders by national banks. The question will require thorough consideration before it can be finally determined [illegible] during the short time he will remain at the head of the department.

Appropriation Bills.

All the regular appropriation bills which were passed [illegible] President Hayes [illegible] $150,000 [illegible].

Provided For.

Rogers [illegible] retired. [illegible] said will be appointed [illegible] court of claims commission.

Why Hayes did not Pardon the Mussell Slough Settlers.

President Hayes the day before his retirement from office informed Horace Davis, who conveyed to him the supplemental petition for the pardon of the Mussell Slough settlers, and also [illegible] General Miller, who visited him upon the same subject, that he felt that he must decline to take action upon the petitions in the absence of any expression of opinion from the federal judges and district attorney. He said that it was not necessary to have their favorable recommendations, but it should be ascertained whether they had anything to say against the proposed pardon, as he had found during his administration that important facts and considerations adverse to the exercise of executive clemency had not been known to the public or communicated to him until after the pardons were granted. This case has therefore gone over to the present administration and the efforts of the California delegation will be renewed with President Garfield.

An Oregon Counterfeiter Pardoned.

President Hayes on the 3d inst. issued a pardon for young Hicks, of Tehama county, California, who is now in the Oregon penitentiary for passing counterfeit money. The application for pardon was presented by Representative Berry.

Davis takes the Judiciary Committee.

Davis of Illinois will be chairman of the judiciary committee of the senate as Garland, Lamar and Bayard prefer to retain their present chairmanships. This leaves Davis as chairman in order of prominence.

Meeting of the National Republican Committee.

A meeting of the republican committee was held to-day, a large number of delegates and proxies being present. Marshall Jewell presided. A sub committee consisting of Geo. C. Gorham, Edward McPherson and Wm. E. Chandler, which had been appointed by Secretary Dorsey to consider and report plans of representation in the next convention, submitted majority and minority reports. The majority report submitted by Chandler proposed that hereafter national conventions be composed of four delegates at large from each state, two from each congressional district, one for each republican senator and one or district delegate for each republican member of congress, provided that district delegates shall be chosen by the voters of their respective districts and at conventions held in the district. Gorham's minority report recommended that the national convention of 1884 should consist of a number of delegates from each state equal to twice the number of senators and representatives in congress, and that the republicans of each state should direct the manner of choosing its delegates. After discussion, the two reports were referred to a committee of five who are to consider the subject fully and report to a future meeting of the full committee.

The contest in the district of Columbia between Sayles J. Bowen and Dr. Purvis for membership in the national committee was considered, and after considerable discussion it was decided to accept the credentials of Dr. Purvis (a colored gentleman).

Dinner to Vice-President Arthur.

A dinner was given by the Union League Club of New York city to Vice President Arthur to-night. Senator Conkling was present as an invited guest.

A Portrait of Mrs. Hayes for the White House.

Fifty ladies of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the executive mansion Tuesday will present President Garfield with a portrait of Mrs. Hayes to be placed in the White House.

Personal.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Gov. Pacheco will leave Washington in a few days for Vera Cruz and the City of Mexico, whence he will proceed to California leisurely by way of Guadalajara.

Representative Berry starts in about a week for a month's visit to western Texas. He will then visit the City of Mexico and return to California through Chihuahua, Sonora and Arizona.

Congressman Page intends to leave for California about the 15th inst.

Gen. S. W. Backus, adjutant general of California, who has been here during the inaugural festivities, left for New York city yesterday.

California Bills Left Over.

Among the bills which passed the senate during this last congress but which expired for want of final action in the house of representatives, were the following California measures:

A bill to create the Los Angeles collection district.

A bill to establish a Pacific coast dead letter office at San Francisco.

A bill to provide for auditing the account for supplies furnished by California merchants to the Indian bureau.

A bill for repayment of purchase money and fees on void entries of public lands.

The Japanese indemnity fund bill.

Berry's debris bill and Booth's bill for the relief of the California state university expired on the calendar of the house and senate respectively, without passing either branch of congress.

The Chinese Treaties.

The Post, a democratic organ, says to-day: As the senate has no other executive business that will consume much time it might very properly proceed to consideration of the Chinese treaties, which were laid before that body some months ago. Senators have thus far given little or no attention to anything connected with these treaties [illegible] inquiry as to the manner of their [illegible].

The Vacant Senatorships.

It is believed that the governor of Minnesota will appoint [illegible] to fill the vacancy created in the senate by Windom's resignation.

Kirkwood's vacant seat in the senate [illegible] James F. Wilson, ex-representative in congress [illegible].

Senator Blaine will be succeeded by Congressman Frye.

Post Offices Established.

[illegible] Wasco county, Oregon [illegible] Burrell [illegible] postmaster.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].

Upon calling the senate to order at noon, Vice President Arthur was vociferously applauded by the galleries. The vice president stated he had received [illegible] petition [illegible] special legislation [illegible] presented at an extraordinary session of the senate. He submitted [illegible] communication. After remarks by Harris and Hill, it was ordered that the petition received by the vice president be submitted by him at the next legislative session.

Hoar offered a resolution extending to Winfield S. Hancock the privileges of the floor during his stay in Washington, adopted unanimously.

Blaine in accordance with notice given by him some weeks ago submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That a special committee of five senators be appointed by the chair to take into consideration the [illegible] of voting for president and vice president of the United States and the [illegible] counting and certifying the same, who shall report such propositions for change in the law and constitution as may seem expedient; that said committee have power to sit during the recess of congress and that they be directed to report on or before the second Wednesday of January 1882. Temporarily laid on the table to be printed. Recess was then taken.

At reassembling [illegible] Senator Blaine [illegible] applause. The vice president [illegible].

A message was received from the president [illegible] of Tennessee [illegible] The galleries [illegible] the senate adjourned [illegible].

A DAMAGING FROST

Cane and Coffee Fields Ruined in Antioquia, Colombia.

PANAMA, Feb. 24.—The 10th of February will be remembered in Antioquia on the occasion of a frost the heaviest in the memory of man and occasioning damage which has no record in the history of the country since the conquest by the Spaniards. The frost was so keen that ice was formed in many places and on the following morning it could be collected quite readily. Even in protected places such as balconies of houses ice formed in water vessels and was found of a very respectable thickness in the morning. After the frost cane fields and coffee plantations appeared as though fire had passed through them. Leaves of coffee trees of the most vigorous trees as well as the tenderest shoots were discolored and shriveled and broke to pieces at the slightest touch, while even tender twigs were injured. Several years must necessarily elapse before the plantations can be restored to their usually healthy condition. Sugar cane was killed as it stood so that loss in this respect is confined to the amount now actually uncut, although all of this will scarcely be the total loss. The amount of damage is calculated at between one and two millions of dollars.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA

Mail Contract let to the Pacific Mail Co.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Guatemala advices via Panama of the 25th ult. state that a contract has been signed between the government and Capt. John M. Dow, general agent of the Pacific Mail steamship Co., for mail service of the Pacific coast of the republic. The amount of the subsidies paid the company is $2,000 per month.

The Wachusett's Movements.

The U. S. ship Wachusett left Panama on the 20th for San Francisco.

CANADA

Grand Reception to Hanlan at Toronto.

TORONTO, Mar. 4.—Thousands of people greeted Hanlan to-night. He was received by the mayor and escorted to the Grand Opera House by a torch light procession. The opera house was crowded. Lieut. Gov. Robinson delivered an address and Hanlan responded.

A Ghastly Business.

MONTREAL, March 5.—It is reported that an extensive trade in dead bodies is carried on from Canada to the United States during the present winter.

The Inauguration Pageantry Summed Up.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—The pageantry of this inauguration day has far exceeded anything of the sort ever seen in Washington and has probably never been surpassed in the United States. The city with its wide and well paved avenues, imposing buildings, especially adapted to street spectators, and the inaugural procession with at least 20,000 men in line appeared to magnificent advantage. The military display has been surpassed only by the grand review of Sherman's army at the close of the late civil war. The decorations all along the line of march were remarkably handsome and the inaugural ball which terminated the celebration of the day was by reason of the superb fitness of the national museum for the purpose and the absolute completeness of the arrangements and delightful music a fitting climax to all the spectacles and pleasures that have preceded it.

James Clephane, ninety years of age, lives in Washington, and is the oldest resident there. He acted as a compositor on the first edition of "Waverley" and also read proof with Sir Walter Scott. He came here in 1817 and as a member of the Washington Artillery he helped fire a salute when Lafayette left this country for the last time.

Immigrants Wanted at Buenos Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES, March 1.—The government is about to send Dean Dillon to Ireland to promote emigration to [illegible]. A special agent has already been sent to Germany for the purpose of facilitating emigration.

Gig Blown Up.

MELBOURNE, March 6.—A gig belonging to the Cerebus, a vessel stationed here for the defense of the colony, has been blown up by a torpedo and five of the crew killed.

CONGRATULATORY.

We take much pleasure in congratulating our enterprising druggists, Messrs. C. H. Woodard & Co. upon having secured the agency for Slaven's Famous Yosemite Cologne, Harmless Yosemite Face Powder, and California Pine and Eucalyptus Porous Plasters. We call particular attention to the Eucalyptus Plaster which is taking the lead of all others. The Yosemite Cologne has already become a household word, and all the ladies recommend the Face Powder. C. H. Woodard & Co., Portland, Oregon.

ANOTHER GREAT STORM

In the Northwest—Trains Everywhere Blockaded—Stock Starving in Snow Drifts—Etc.

CHICAGO, March [illegible].—A light snow has been falling through the day and added to the snow [illegible] the disastrous effects of the great storm of Wednesday and yesterday. Railroads centering here, especially those from the north and west, are still practically snowed up and trains running at all are very irregular. Street cars move slowly with four horses and in the country public highways are obstructed by huge drifts rendering travel impracticable. Receipts of grain in the past 24 hours were but eight cars. There are nine trains stuck between Hyde Park and [illegible], 14 miles south of here, and five engines together do not suffice to break the blockade. [illegible] cattle [illegible] from five of these trains were unloaded last night [illegible] and driven across to the stock yards.

At Waukegan, Illinois, the public schools are closed owing to the storm. Drifts in the streets are [illegible] and it is still snowing.

At [illegible], Ill., it has been snowing sixty six hours [illegible] passenger train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway has been snowbound [illegible]. Snow is falling as fast as ever.

[illegible] forty car [illegible] west of [illegible] the central [illegible] sixty shippers went to their relief but [illegible] are unable to return.

A dispatch from Omaha says that no trains have arrived from the east since yesterday morning. The wind is high and cuts are drifting full. The [illegible] Bluffs? [illegible] have not been heard from and are probably snowed in at Rock Island. The [illegible] is not so bad along the Union Pacific. At Madison, Wis., where the storm is the heaviest, there was a prospect of [illegible] clearing, but no prospect of trains running for several days.

A dispatch from [illegible], Iowa, says there is hardly a wheel moving on the northwestern railroad from Chicago to Council Bluffs. The snow fills the [illegible] as fast as shovels can clear them.

CRIMINAL NEWS

A Cheerful Family Affair.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 5.—[illegible] Pratt was hanged to-day at Marietta in the presence of 500 people. His crime was a [illegible] upon a white child. He went to the scaffold smoking a cigar and chatting [illegible]. His father, mother and sister witnessed the execution.

Murder in the Second Degree.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 5.—A New Philadelphia special to the Leader says: The jury to-day returned a verdict of murder in the second degree in the case of Mr. [illegible] Athey, who some months ago from jealousy chopped to pieces a young woman, Mary [illegible], and hid the body in an ash pile, where it was afterwards found. The verdict means life imprisonment. The crime is one of the most unprovoked and revolting perpetrated in this state, and interest in the trial has been intense.

Sentence of the Philadelphia Conspirators.

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—Sentence was passed to-day in the court of quarter sessions upon Charles Haines, commissioner of highways, and Wm. Miskey, Jr., and Henry C. Clements, contractors, convicted of conspiracy to defraud the city in obtaining highway contracts. Haines was sentenced to imprisonment for eighteen months in the Eastern penitentiary and a $400 fine, and Miskey and Clements to one year's imprisonment and a fine of $500 each. Motion for a new trial was overruled.

FIRES.

A Factory Burned.

CINCINNATI, March 6.—J. A. Fay & Co.'s manufactory of wood working machinery, a large five-story building, was burned this morning. Loss, $100,000; insured for $97,000.

Fire in Hickman, Ky.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 6.—A Hickman, Ky., special says that the Hickman cotton seed oil works and a two-story frame boarding house burned this morning. Loss $11,000, and that A. B. [illegible] and Mrs. Parson, landlady at the boarding house, were burned to death.

The Wyoming Coal Mine Disaster.

CHEYENNE, March 5.—Excitement at the Almy mine, the scene of Thursday night's explosion, has abated somewhat. Charles Beveridge, who was thought to have been mortally wounded, is still living and may recover. The fire has been put out upon a portion of the mine, so that rescuers can work. The bodies of all but three Chinamen have been traced to the surface, and the bodies of all the white men were recovered last night. An inquest has been held on the bodies of the white men, but a verdict has not yet been given. The funerals of all will take place to-morrow, interment being in the cemetery at Evanston. [illegible] Several Chinamen who were brought out alive have since died, and others are expected to die. All the offices of the company and surrounding dwellings have been improvised as hospitals, and all possible kindness is extended by citizens to the injured Chinese. Plenty of nurses, medicine and physicians were volunteered.

A Dishonest Business Man.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 5.—A deficiency of $87,000 has been discovered in the accounts of the Springfield Silk Co., and they are unable to meet liabilities as they mature, although the reorganization is on a sound basis and arrangements for payment in full will be effected. About $60,000 has gone through the connivance of Henry Hallet, the treasurer of the company, since its organization three years ago.

POISON

Spurts of disgusting mucous from the nostrils or upon the tonsils, Watery Eyes, Snuffles, Buzzing in the Ears, Deafness, Crackling sensations in the Head, Intermittent Pains over the Eyes, Fœtid Breath, Nasal Twang, Scabs in the Nostrils, and Tickling in the Throat are

SIGNS of CATARRH.

No other such loathsome, treacherous and undermining malady curses mankind. One fifth of our Children die of diseases generated by its Infectious Poison, and one-fourth of living men and women drag out miserable existences from the same cause. While asleep, the impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs to poison every part of the system.

Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure absorbs the purulent virus and kills the seeds of poison in the farthest parts of the system. It will not only relieve, but certainly cure Catarrh at any stage. It is the only remedy which in our judgment, has ever yet really cured a case of Chronic Catarrh.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING MARCH 7 1881

THE NEW CABINET

The new cabinet was announced on Saturday and confirmed at once without a dissent ing voice. Press comment is mostly favorable and complimentary—the exceptions being those journals which have in times past run tilts against one or another of the new body. Some journals hold to the opinion that the cabinet on the whole is inferior to that of President Hayes, but nothing is more likely to be misleading than such comparison of one set of men with another. In this case it is a question of fitness for discharge of the duties of official positions—not a question of whether this man is so able a lawyer as Mr Evarts, or so close a thinker or so remarkable an orator as Mr Schurz. There is no dissenting opinion as to Mr Blaine's great abilities. His talents have been manifested for so long a time and in so many situations, his prominence has been won by so clear an exhibition of the resources of genius and power, that no one questions his representative position in his party and few indeed challenge the judgment that has given him the leading place in the new administration. The new secretary of the treasury Mr Windom possesses abilities which have been exhibited with credit and advantage in both houses of congress. No bad test of a man's qualities is the long and steady support of a constituency like that of Minnesota where able and ambitious men are constantly pushing to the front, and where honor travels in a strait so narrow that one but goes abreast. Mr Kirkwood of Iowa who succeeds Mr Schurz in the interior department made so good a reputation as governor of his state that his people with great unanimity sent him to the United States senate. The postoffice department in many respects the most important of all since it is in more constant intercourse with the people than any other is placed under the charge of Mr James for many years postmaster of New York city. This appointment appears to be due entirely to recognition of eminent fitness for the position. Mr. James has won a wide reputation for the unusual ability he has displayed in the management of the New York postoffice. His success has been due largely to the fact that efficiency for duty and not political favor has been the test and requirement of his administration. The war and navy departments come less in contact with the people than any others and are carried on chiefly under routine system. Mr Robert Lincoln's appointment will be accepted by the country as a graceful tribute to an illustrious name. But Mr Lincoln though as yet untried in public life is known to be a man of good natural talents and it is not doubted that he will fill the position with credit. Not the least notable of these appointments the circumstances being considered is that of Mr McVeagh of Pennsylvania. A leader of the protesters against the despotism of the boss system so long maintained over the republicans of Pennsylvania by the Cameron clan one of the foremost in the work of delivering the Pennsylvania delegation at the Chicago convention from the rule and instructions of the state boss, and again prominent in defeating the machine man in the late senatorial election at Harrisburg Mr McVeagh may be truly called a representative of the principle of honorable independence of political action against boss rule and the gag system. Such an appointment cannot be regarded otherwise than as a significant one. In fact the composition of the cabinet as a whole affords reason to believe that the new administration will pursue a high minded course refusing obedience to the behests of political jayhawkers and rejecting the dictation of the class who make gambling in politics their only occupation.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE CIVIL SERVICE

A great number of important topics was touched only incidentally by the new president in his inaugural address, but in a discourse of this character more was not to be expected. In a long public career he has made a record on almost all questions and his utterances in and out of congress always clear and full may be consulted for material to fill up the outline furnished in the inaugural address. In fact in this address he ventures to refer to the position he has long occupied on important public questions as an assurance of his future course. And on the civil service he makes these remarks

> The civil service can never be placed on a satisfactory basis until it is regulated by law for the good of the service itself for protection of those who are entrusted with the appointing power against waste of time and obstruction to public business caused by inordinate pressure for place and for protection of incumbents against intrigue and wrong. I shall at the proper time ask congress to fix the tenure of minor offices and of the several executive departments and prescribe the grounds upon which removals shall be made during terms for which incumbents have been appointed

This is excellent as a general statement. In his speeches in congress Gen Garfield has spoken words which will fill up the outline. In April, 1873 he said

> The best and noblest reforms and resolutions in the public sentiment of this country have been achieved by the people with patronage power, and the spoils of office against them, and where not one in a hundred of the successful expected any other reward than the triumph of the principle they advocated. In such conflicts our noblest triumphs have been achieved. But sir if we are to look at mere party success, I would still say that a reform in our civil service is fast becoming a demand of our time which no party can afford to ignore

Answering Butler of Massachusetts who had been reared under the spoils system and whose methods as a politician are all suited to it Garfield said

> There is no great and eminently successful department of this government which has not been made so by being taken out of the ordinary channel of political management. Is there a man here who would be willing to turn the coast survey over to the ordinary civil service? In that bureau we have a system of promotion by merit which has given us those distinguished and noble men who in that service have crowned the nation with honor. So with the lighthouse board and so with all the branches of our service which have really been an honor to human nature and a glory to the nation itself. It is because we wish to lift other departments to a similarly high plane that we ask the power of congress to some measure of civil service reform. I wish to pass to another point. Gentlemen who advocate the purity of our civil service say that it is now doing well and needs no reform. I ask these gentlemen what they think of the system of political assessments? I ask them what they think of the collector of a great port or the chief of any great branch of the service issuing a circular calling for one two or three per cent of the salaries of all the employes under his control to be used for party purposes with the distinct understanding that unless they pay that per cent upon their salaries others will be found to fill their places who will pay the assessment? I call the attention of gentlemen around me to that shameful fact that prevails all through our service, and which has prevailed for the last twenty five years. There is an executive order forbidding political assessments, and yet the gentlemen around me do not want this order to prevail because the practice which it condemns affords a large so-called electioneering fund which in many cases never gets beyond the pockets of the shysters, the hangers-on and the mere camp followers of the party

With equal emphasis has Gen Garfield spoken against the custom of permitting senators and representatives in congress or other politicians looking to the advancement of selfish objects, to intermeddle with the public service. He has denounced this practice as a wrong to the government and to private individuals, and as a most fruitful source of injury to the party responsible for it. The literature of the political contest which resulted in Gen Garfield's election was rich in extracts from his numerous speeches on many phases of the subject. These utterances commended him to the country. It is often easier to utter sound opinions than to put them into practice. The best endeavors are often made difficult and sometimes wholly thwarted through the hindrances created by the activity of an intrenched opposition. But the evils which Gen Garfield has described are neither few nor small nor are the remedies he has proposed the devices of quackery or of visionary reform. Like President Hayes he may be unable to do all he could desire but he will do much and it is to be expected that he will.

A FRUITLESS DOUBT

Not long since this journal made the announcement that the controlling interest of the Northern Pacific railroad had passed into the hands of Mr Henry Villard and friends and that construction of this road and development of the system of the O R & N Co in so far as the two would coincide would proceed on a common plan. Telegraphic dispatches indicating some great and important movement in Northern Pacific had been coming during several days through the usual channels of news and to satisfy public inquiry on a subject of so much moment, THE OREGONIAN sought and obtained information which it was able to pronounce entirely authentic and trustworthy and gave publicity to it. Several journals of Washington territory have attempted to throw discredit on the statement and some of them have gone so far as to make bitter attacks on this paper for giving currency with its attestation to what they are pleased to denominate an absurd report. The Tacoma Herald asserts that the publication was "an outrage on the people of this (Washington) territory," an untruth which has tightened purse strings all over the territory and hindered the steady progress of its business. Now we take it that people who read THE OREGONIAN want the news. We take it also that they are not so silly as to deem a newspaper their enemy because it gives a piece of information which to some of them may be unwelcome. The Tacoma paper draws a frightful picture of the effects this change in control of the Northern Pacific would have on Washington territory if the report be a true one. It is hard to guess why any paper should take pleasure in drawing such a picture exaggerated sombre and distorted as it is. Washington territory is not to be blighted. On the contrary its resources are to be developed and prosperity even beyond all the pictures ever drawn by a vivid imagination, is to be its portion. But the present question is upon the accuracy of our former statement. That statement was well founded. It was and is entirely true. Control of a majority of the Northern Pacific stock has passed to an association formed under the lead of Mr Villard. The money pledged for the purpose has been paid in the second great installment on Tuesday last. There is no more reason to doubt that this transaction has taken place than that Gen Garfield became president of the United States last Friday. All the leading facts and details relating to this change of control are well known here. If there are those who find fault with the transaction they need not quarrel with THE OREGONIAN. This paper did not bring it about. It has only given information about it in accord with its bounden duty as a medium of public intelligence. If there are any who doubt the statement only because they do not wish to believe it they may as well give up the doubt as quickly as possible unless error be more welcome to them than conviction of truth. THE OREGONIAN does not make statements at random nor vouch for facts unless they are facts. At the outset it said it had surest authority for this statement. It would not have made it on anything less than entirely sufficient information.

The commissioner of the general land office has discovered that in laying out the boundaries of western states and territories a parallelogram containing 3 840 000 acres has been left between Texas Kansas Colorado New Mexico and Indian territory without law government or taxes of any kind. There are over 200 000 cattle grazing in this district and it is becoming a harbor of refuge for all the outlaws and desperadoes in the country. Our congressional tailors in cutting up the country did not measure their cloth very accurately to leave a fragment three times the size of Delaware without any provision for a legal government. There is a part of Texas that runs up between the Indian territory and New Mexico that ought to be detached and with the fragment of territory above named perhaps adding a little more from the western side of the present Indian territory could be constituted a respectable new territory. The Atlantic & Pacific railroad would run through the center of it. The Canadian and several forks of the Red river water the country, and it would not be long in filling up thus surrounded by states and penetrated by roads.

Rev J. L. M. Curry member of congress from Alabama in the thirty fifth and thirty-sixth congress also member of the confederate congress and officer in the confederate service since that time a Baptist clergyman and professor in a Virginia college has been chosen agent of the Peabody fund to succeed Rev Dr Sears deceased. There are $90 000 annual income from the fund to promote southern education. Of all the grand monuments of charity in this country and England that will perpetuate the fame of Peabody none have supplied a greater necessity and accomplished more enduring results than this provision for free schools at the south. Every southern state has now a free school system, which if not all that should be is steadily improving and will surely leaven and lift the mass of the southern people in a few years.

There seems to be good humor and even happiness all round at Washington. Republican feuds are buried, for the time at least, while democrats are exhibiting a docility never witnessed in them before. Every member of the new cabinet was confirmed immediately and without reference to committee. The senate is still controlled by the democrats but the majority are not hilarious nor aggressive. They go through their duties in a sort of sad and perfunctory way feeling doubtless what a hollow mockery it is to be an important part of the government in name only.

The blacks in the southern states have increased more than thirty per cent in ten years. The census makes an astonishing exhibit on this point. Here again an argument which was used as a strong prop of slavery is overthrown. It used to be said that if the negroes were set free they would soon become extinct. Yet it is now proven that they multiply faster under freedom than they ever did under slavery and moreover that the products of their industry are far greater.

If the prosecution doesn't impeach the witnesses it may now be considered as proven that De Young fired the first shot, and that Kalloch has a colorable plea of self defense. But the testimony on this point wears a suspicious look. Perhaps an alibi would have been better. But if it was a case of emotional insanity what need either of alibi or the plea of self defense?

Chicago protests against the prohibition of American pork in France, and wants our government to try the effect of diplomacy on it. And no wonder. France imports about one hundred million pounds of pork a year and the French embargo has caused already a loss of $500 000 in stocks of pork in Chicago.

Arguing for governmental control of the telegraph a paper before us says that telegraphy in England costs one tenth what it does in the United States. To this our telegraph people might be disposed to reply that distance in the United States are something more than ten times as great as in England.

After all the pother the resumption [illegible] experiment will failed. But as the republicans will be stronger in the next congress than in the last one it will doubtless pass next winter on the basis they have insisted on.

Secretary Windom is strongly in favor of government control of railways and telegraphs. He thinks large monopolies with unrestricted power and privileges the great standing menace which menace the country.

General Logan made a very happy pat phrase lately when he said in the senate of a great character in American history "first in war first in peace, and the last of his country men to get a monument."

President Garfield has appointed his cabinet. Will somebody here shall and give a cement [illegible] the bankrupt political adventurers ending with the path to reform. It might have been

It is understood that the legislature of Maine will elect Mr Frye to fill the seat in the senate vacated by Mr Blaine.

Woman suffrage failed in the Indiana house of representatives by only three votes. Its advocates will try again.

CITY.

[illegible] LOST AT SEA.—Saturday [illegible] the British bark Glen [illegible] of 601 tons burden [illegible] master arrived at this port from Cardiff. She made the voyage in 1[illegible] days—the second best passage from that port. The Glen arn brings 925 tons of rails [illegible] for the Oregon Railway and Navigation company. This iron will be transferred to barges and conveyed to the front as rapidly as practicable. When only three days out from Cardiff October 27th—Anthony J Hurt the first officer of the vessel was swept overboard during the prevalence of a heavy gale and drowned. At the time Hurt was on deck directing the movements of the men above, when the vessel shipped a heavy sea which carried him away. As soon as possible a small boat was launched and manned by the boats [illegible] and two of the crew and efforts made to rescue the man but without avail. The ship was lurching and the small boat was twice thrown violently against the side of the vessel and the side stove in by a projecting bolt. When carried overboard the first officer had his heavy sea boots and oil skins on and must have sunk immediately. A heavy gale was blowing at the time, and the ship lay to for an hour keeping a sharp lookout for the [illegible] but to no avail. Mr Hurt was a native of Derbyshire England, and 24 years of age.

THE EPIZOOTIC.—Influenza prevails among horses and continues in very mild form and no additional cases have been reported. The pleasant weather for a week past has contributed much to the good condition of affected stock and proper precautions having been observed very few horses have taken sick. The transportation companies find no difficulty in filling orders and owners of private equipages suffer no inconvenience. The suggestions for the care of horses which were published in last Wednesday's OREGONIAN are made by Dr James Withycombe the well known and experienced veterinary surgeon and should in all cases be carried out when animals are attacked with the disease.

GRAND ARMY FUNERAL.—The remains of Comrade Bradley of George Wright post No 1, G A R will be followed to the grave at 1 30 P M to-day. The post as a body will meet at headquarters at 1 o'clock and escort the body to the grave in Lone Fir, where it will be buried with military honors. The Washington Guard band has been engaged by Commander [illegible] Pierce and will furnish the music. This is the first funeral of any member of the post during its existence of ten years. Every member of the organization is requested to be at the hall and march with the post if possible.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—About noon yesterday Mrs Foster who lives near Ames Chapel, was driving home in a buggy accompanied by a ten year old son of Mr Lou Weatherford. When they reached the corner of Twelfth and Jefferson streets the horse started up suddenly and threw both occupants to the ground. Mrs Foster suffered a sprained ankle and the boy received painful but not serious injuries about the head having been thrown against the root of a tree.

SHIP CANADA.—The American ship Canada of 1190 tons burden Trowbridge master arrived here Saturday. The Canada brings 4078 bars of railroad iron 5022 bundles and sheets, 1648 packages of railroad material and six cars consigned to the superintendent of the Northern Pacific railroad. The Canada cleared at New York one year ago Saturday and the shifting of her cargo compelled her to put in at Rio Janeiro where she remained five months.

THE J C COUSINS.—Mention was made in the dispatches a few days ago of the purchase of the yacht J C Cousins at San Francisco which will be used as a pilot boat on the Columbia river bar. The Cousins was originally used as a pilot boat in San Francisco harbor, but one night she stranded on the beach near the Cliff House. She was hauled off repaired and fitted up as a yacht, and was one of the [illegible] vessels in the yacht fleet.

A O H No 2.—Yesterday Division No 2 A. O H was organized in this city by E Campion county delegate assisted by the county board and state delegates J J Bryne R J Kally and John Gorman. Forty one members were admitted and the following officers chosen: P G Gleason president; James A Kelly, vice president; Michael O Halloran, recording secretary; Edward Hanley, financial secretary; Michael O'Learey treasurer.

TEMPORARILY INSANE.—Mrs E A Ladd, who resides on the farm of Capt John Harlow at Trout lake and whose husband runs a ferry on the Sandy river at that point has recently become partially demented. The unfortunate lady has been brought to this city and is now being properly cared at the residence of Capt Harlow. Her dementia is said to be of a temporary character and it is hoped that reason will soon assume its sway.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING.—The annual school meeting of the taxpayers of district No 1 will be held at the court house at 7 30 this (Monday) evening. The object of the meeting is to hear the reports of the board of school directors and the clerk to levy a school tax and to transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting. It is very desirable to have a full attendance.

YOUNG AGENT.—The agent for the Espinosa Concert Company is Mr Eugene Schutz, who though a young man has had considerable experience in the business. He is a son of Mr Charles Schutz who has visited Portland several times—once as agent for Mme Ilma Di Murska and again as agent for M Edward Remenyi. This is the first visit of Mr Eugene Schutz to this city.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—The East Portland Vindicator says: While Mr F D Devool was attempting to cross Johnson's creek Powell's valley, the water being very high his wagon was overturned and swept down the stream. He with great difficulty succeeded in disengaging his horses from the wagon thus saving the lives of the horses and very narrowly escaping with his own.

AMENDED SCHOOL LAWS.—The amended school laws for 1880, as compiled by the secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction, have just been completed by the state printer, and a sufficient number will be sent to day to the various school superintendents by the secretary of state, to supply each district in their respective counties with four copies.

SANK OWENS CONVALESCENT.—From the Walla Walla papers it is learned that Sank Owens, the well known sporting man is recovering and strong hopes are entertained that he will soon be out again. Sank as he is familiarly known has been very sick for some months and his friends will be pleased to hear of his convalescence.

COMMUTATION GRANTED.—His excellency, the governor has commuted the sentence of G Newman sentenced August 27, 1878 to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary for the crime of arson committed in Clatsop county. Reasons assigned: Uniform good conduct and extra services in the bakery.

COURSE OF LECTURES.—We understand that the members of the M E church of East Portland are arranging for a course of lectures. The arrangements are not complete, but it is probable that the following persons will be secured: Rev Izer Prof Lamberson Rev H K Hines and Rev J H Acton.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.—Gen Frank Wheaton commander of the department of the Columbia has granted leave of absence for 30 days from March 3d to 2d Lieut Wm P Abercrombie of the second infantry stationed at Camp Spokane W T.

SOCIAL.—The ladies of the Baptist church will give a social this evening in the lecture room of the church. There will be literary and musical exercises and a general social time. Admission 25 cents. Refreshments free.

SEVERE FALL.—A lady named Mrs Owens, who resides on Washington street, met with a heavy fall on the sidewalk yesterday, receiving severe injuries on the knee.

WILL MEET.—The Delta literary circle will meet at the residence of Charles Dickenson, 333 Yamhill street to-morrow (Tuesday) evening instead of this evening.

INTERNATIONAL GOOD TEMPLARS.—Bethel Home Lodge No 1, O G T of the world, meets this evening at 8 o'clock in Bethel Hall corner Third and D streets.

CONVENTION.—The Methodist Sunday school and church convention will assemble in Taylor Street M E church to-morrow forenoon.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

[illegible] Roan at the clothing palace corner of Morrison and First streets has just received a new and splendid stock of boys and men's clothing. He invites the public to call and examine his large stock.

W J Van Schuyver & Co and Hodge, Davis & Co are agents for the celebrated Tolu Rock and Rye. This is said to be a sure and safe remedy for colds, coughs, bronchitis, asthma and all diseases of the throat and lungs.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT EAST PORTLAND.—For the express accommodation of East Portlanders manager Stechhan has effected arrangements with the Espinosa concert company for giving a performance at Neppach's Hall on Wednesday evening March 9th. On that occasion an excellent programme will be rendered. Tickets can be had at the postoffice and at West's drug store. Admission 50 cents, reserved seats 75 cents.

PERSONAL.

Rev Lambert, of Salem, occupied the pulpit of Taylor street church yesterday.

Mr A Waldman will be a passenger on the outgoing steamer. He will take care of any orders entrusted to his care.

Meyer, the tailor, returned on the Columbia with a fine line of goods for the spring season, which he will make up with promptness. See the patterns.

Lemons, oranges, limes, goldfish, figs, dates, raisins, nuts etc., etc., fresh by every steamer at S. L. Stone's. Orders strictly attended to.

Labbe Bros keep the celebrated Wilhoit Spring Water.

MUSICAL RECITAL.

The First Concert of the Series.

Saturday evening between 7 30 and [illegible] o'clock a musical recital was held at the [illegible] by the members of the Espinosa concert company.

Signor Miguel Espinosa and Manager Stechhan who had charge of the affair arranged the necessary preliminaries to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. The guests numbering some twenty five ladies and gentlemen included representatives of the city press and several of the leading musicians of Portland. The [illegible] though given before a select few and in [illegible] its character was merely intended to [illegible] in a modest sort of manner the individual capabilities of the company. After [illegible] in social converse for a quarter of an hour or more the recital commenced.

The first number was a piano duet by Senor Espinosa and August Zech on the parlor Steinway. The selection was a very difficult intricate composition requiring in its correct and effective interpretation a remarkable degree of mechanical skill. These difficulties were overcome with a grace and ease that indicated these gentlemen are accomplished pianists.

Mr Ernest Schmidt one of the celebrated Schmidt Quintette club of San Francisco favored the guests with a solo on the violincello. In the rendering of a difficult selection he evinced great skill and showed that he is a complete master of the instrument.

Miss Jenny Landsmann the prima donna of the company then sang Ernani Involami. Miss Landsmann is unquestionably a vocalist of high order. Her voice is clear her tones full strong and flexible. Her method shows the most careful training and her execution displays a high degree of cultivation. This lady has sung with marked success in Milan, Rome, Florence, [illegible] Pesth, London and other large European cities. Her scrap book contains many complimentary notices of her appearance in Italian, Hungarian, German and English languages.

Miss Sylvia Gerrish the young lady who visited Portland last fall with the Melville English Opera company favored the guests with a new and pretty ballad entitled Children's Kingdom. Miss Gerrish is a [illegible] handsome young lady with a very pleasant contralto voice. A piano duet by Senor Espinosa and August Zech [illegible] A piano solo—a most intricate selection—was rendered by Senor Espinosa with great dash and brilliancy.

This evening the first concert of the series will be given at New Market theater. The following excellent programme will be rendered:

PART I

Duo for two Pianos Marche Triumphale, op [illegible] — Glorin
August Zech and M Espinosa

Ernst Schmidt
Duo Maritana — Wallace
Miss Landsman and Miss Gerrish

THE LATE HUGH MACLEAY.

The funeral of Hugh Macleay took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of Mr D Jay, and was very largely attended. Delegations of Masons and members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in regalia took part in the procession and St Andrew's Society attended in a body. The pall bearers were two from the Masonic order, two from the A O U W, two from St Andrew's Society, and six from the salesmen of Messrs Lipman & Co's. Behind the hearse walked three cash boys of the establishment. Services at the grave were conducted by Rev A L Lindsley and by the orders.

The deceased a native of Rosseshire, Scotland, was born on the 8th of January, 1847. After finishing his education he engaged in the draper business in his native shire, but finding only limited scope for his abilities, came to this country some seven years ago residing some time in Illinois. He finally settled on the Pacific coast, coming to Portland when Lipman & Co started their dry goods business in this city by whom he was esteemed for his sterling business qualities and respected for his private worth. Deceased was a member of A F and A Masons and belonged to Lanark Chapter No 139 Ills. He was also a member of Magnolia Lodge of A O U Workmen and at the time of his death was vice president of the St Andrew's Society of Oregon. Mr Macleay leaves behind him a wife who is absent in Scotland also a widowed mother and brother in the same country. Deceased was a straightforward, honest good man and a most zealous Mason, and requested a brother, who was with him in his last lucid moment, to request his brethren of the ancient craft to take his remains to its last resting place.

PORTLAND MARINER'S HOME.

LARGE SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED

Captain Jacob Kamm, one of our well known and solid men addressed the following note to Chaplain Stubbs on the [illegible] inst:

DEAR SIR—Your note of the [illegible] inst in [illegible] subscriptions toward the building of [illegible] Mariner's home, is received. In reply I would say that I will give you $400 on condition the whole amount $10 000—is raised. I hope you will succeed in raising the full amount as I deem it a worthy cause.

Yours very truly, JACOB KAMM

Canvassing by the agent the past few weeks has met with generous responses from our citizens as the following figures taken from his list indicate: W S Ladd $500; H W Corbett, $2,0[illegible]; C H Lewis $250; Corbitt & Macleay, $250. Towards the purchase of a beautiful lot corner of Third and D streets these gentlemen had previously contributed $250 each. Others have subscribed generously in sums varying from $2 50 to $100. To make the subscriptions binding and available and to allow contracts to be made and work to be begun $5[illegible] must yet be secured.

DEATH OF MRS. ELIZABETH A. HILL

Mrs Elizabeth A Hill wife of Judge H N Hill of Lane county, died of paralysis on February 18th. She was born in Randolph county North Carolina December 4 1819 and with her honored father, Mr Jesse Merrell, removed to West Tennessee. In 18[illegible] she was married to Judge H N Hill and with him removed to Missouri in 18[illegible]. In 1853 with her husband and family, she shared the untold difficulties of a trip across the plains suffering much while crossing the sage desert near the headwaters of Deschutes river. The party reached Western Oregon at the head of the Willamette, the family making a home near where Junction now is.

Mrs Hill was related to the late ex President Johnson, and was a granddaughter of Pugh of Carolina, who was murdered by tories during the revolution for his devotion to liberty. Her aged mother still lives, and her husband, seven sons and two daughters survive her. She was a Christian, having united with the Baptist church in 184[illegible]. Those who knew her will miss the sympathy that was ever given in words of cheer and deeds of helpfulness. Truly, a good woman has passed away.

Secretary's Report

Thirty three years ago the Rev Wm [illegible] published in the Oregon Spectator a call for a meeting to organize a Bible society auxiliary to the American Bible Society at New York. The result of this first step was such that a society was duly formed and since that time has devoted its labors to the circulation of the sacred scriptures throughout this far northwest coast. At each annual meeting the details of the work of the preceding year have been publicly recited and the whole would form if published a most interesting volume.

The field in which the Oregon Bible Society labors embraces the entire state of Oregon, eastern Washington territory and a portion of northwestern Idaho. The work is very largely performed under the agency and supervision of the district superintendent and to his efficiency and devotion to the work the society is indebted for its success in the year that has passed.

The executive committee has held eight sessions during the year and have made donations of Bibles as follows:

Twenty five copies to the Indian school at Forest Grove, 40 copies to the Siletz Indian agency, 25 copies to the Union Sunday school at Myrtle creek, [illegible] copies to the Union Sunday school at Lewiston Idaho, 2 dozen German testaments to the German M E S S of Portland, 1 German Bible for the pulpit of the German Evangelical church of Portland and 1 pulpit Bible for the church in Antelope valley.

A branch depository has been established at Lewiston Idaho territory and a local agency at Fort Wrangle Alaska.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING AT ALBANY

We learn from our correspondent at Albany that a popular educational meeting of three nights continuance has just been held in that city under the [illegible] of Hon L J Powell state superintendent of public [illegible]. The meeting was held in the court house, opening on Monday evening. [illegible] [illegible] in [illegible] of [illegible] Albany [illegible] the public schools [illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] is that [illegible] [illegible] of public schools and the [illegible] education [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of our correspondent.

MONDAY EVENING [illegible]

Recitations by pupils of the public schools [illegible] Mabel Ross, Bella [illegible], [illegible] Irvin, [illegible], [illegible] Ella Mern, [illegible] Emma [illegible], [illegible] Ella Morgan, [illegible] Hattie [illegible]

[illegible] at intervals [illegible] [illegible] of Mr Charles [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] The address of the evening was delivered by Rev J W [illegible] [illegible] of Public Schools to Good Citizenship [illegible] the growth of [illegible] American [illegible] [illegible] culture [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] liberality [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to obtain [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Business Sagacity [illegible] integrity [illegible] [illegible] this will [illegible] [illegible] country.

TUESDAY EVENING, March [illegible]

[illegible] given this evening [illegible] [illegible] Stock [illegible] Maud Harris Maud [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The singing this evening [illegible] was exceedingly [illegible].

The address was delivered by [illegible] subject Home Training. The object of the address was to show the necessity and importance of home training as a factor in the education [illegible] [illegible] children ever receive [illegible] [illegible] physical mental and moral—[illegible] must begin their work early at home. Thus by this triple alliance with the home the school and church working harmoniously together all the enemies of our republic may be conquered and our nation last forever.

WEDNESDAY EVENING MARCH [illegible]

This was the most interesting of all. At an early hour the vast court chamber was crowded to its utmost capacity [illegible] turning home unable to enter. The exercises were by the college students and consisted of declamations and music. The speakers were: O Archibald, Frank Propst, Miss A Irvine, Miss Nellie Powell and Edward Lowell.

The Glee Club sang several choice pieces closing with Where is my boy to-night.

The address was delivered by Rev S G Irvine D D on the question of Finances, as connected with our Public Schools. He showed most convincingly that it was the highest wisdom and the best economy possible for the people to pay liberally in support of public schools. There should be [illegible] [illegible] amount of changes in books, as the expense of purchasing new books occasionally was as nothing compared with the extent of such changes. As we wanted our homes to be pleasant and convenient and spared no expense to make them so we should likewise be liberal in the construction of our school houses where our children had to pass so much of their time and build them on the most attractive and convenient plans.

Mr Powell state superintendent of public schools closed the meeting with an eloquent and powerful appeal to the citizens to redouble their interest in the subject of education. The college should be sustained nobly and every encouragement given to the public schools of the city. That would be a great credit to Albany and money thus appropriated by the wealthy would be far better spent than to be hoarded up for heirs to contend about [illegible] future day.

The meeting was a grand [illegible] [illegible]

The Kalloch Defense

SAN FRANCISCO March 4—In the Kalloch case this afternoon Clement [illegible] was cross-examined at length on minor points in his evidence.

Mrs Inskeep testified that she saw Kalloch [illegible] the Chronicle office, and immediately after saw a flash of fire in front of him, but could not tell from what direction it came.

[illegible] Kelly testified that he saw Kalloch inside the Chronicle office heard a shot and then saw [illegible] pull his pistol and fire five shots. Witness had been in the county jail for battery.

[illegible] county surveyor [illegible] testified that he was [illegible] down Bush street at the time of the shooting [illegible] heard six shots.

James Forester was arrested this evening on complaint of [illegible] charged in the complaint that [illegible] day offered him money if he would go as a witness in the Kalloch case and swear that he saw DeYoung shoot first.

[illegible] [illegible] a [illegible] [illegible] when Kalloch entered. He saw nothing unusual about his appearance. DeYoung raised his and with a short [illegible] [illegible] Kalloch then opened fire. DeYoung's revolver was shown witness but he thought it was different from the pistol first [illegible]. On cross examination witness testimony was not shaken.

James Forester who was arrested yesterday on complaint of Mr Simpson charged with offering complainant money to testify that DeYoung fired the first shot was examined to-day. Several witnesses testified to having been offered money by him to give evidence that DeYoung fired first. Forster stated that he was employed by Mayor Kalloch to hunt persons who were witnesses of the shooting and give them some consideration for attending the trial and testifying as to what they saw. The case was continued.

[illegible] M VanDerhan [illegible] of King county bought a large [illegible] from Chas McDonald for $600. The purchase includes everything necessary to the immediate operation. The farmers along White river are not able to obtain the services of a driver at greatly [illegible] rates. The use of piles to prevent the hurtful overflow of farm lands has been fully [illegible] [illegible].

The prospect is now good for establishing a beet sugar factory either at Puyallup or upon White river. Capitalists whose attention has been attracted by the tests of beets raised in that valley and White river now offer to establish the enterprise if the farmers can guarantee a supply of beets. The whole will cost not less than $[illegible] and employ over a hundred men in the factory besides those required in the fields.

The Puyallup reading room was lately opened on the evening of the 1st [illegible]. The trust [illegible] adopted the following rules: 1st—No [illegible] allowed; 2d—Papers must not be removed from the files; 3d—No talking aloud permitted. Mrs F Meeker has been appointed librarian [illegible] [illegible] to keep the room open until 10 o'clock P M every evening except Sundays and for four hours on Sundays, after church hours.

On Sunday the 27th ult an immense drift lodged in the Puyallup nearly opposite that village blocking the river completely so that footmen now cross with ease. Some parties talk of [illegible] a bridge across similar to that so [illegible] on the old drift at the reservation. Others think the drift must be removed to prevent a channel from cutting around or perhaps overflowing the banks above. A meeting of parties more particularly interested is called to consider what is best to do about it.

ALTHOUGH many are predisposed to lung trouble from birth yet even such may escape consumption or other pulmonary or bronchial disease, if due care and watchfulness be observed and all exciting causes are promptly treated as they arise. If in these cases Dr Jayne's Expectorant exercises its most beneficial effects and has produced the largest proportion of its cures. Besides promptly removing Coughs and Colds, which when left to themselves are the immediate causes of tuberculous development this standard remedy allays all inflammation which may exist and by promoting easy expectoration cleanses the lungs of the substances which clog them up and which when not removed [illegible] ered to many.

ENTIRE CHANGE.

Having just completed marking our goods at a

GREAT REDUCTION.

We are now prepared to offer our entire stock, which is complete in all its departments, at

SAN FRANCISCO'S LOWEST PRICES.

Why we have made this grand change is

1st. We are disposing of our retail business in San Francisco to make Portland our headquarters.
2d. Nearly all the desirable goods have been shipped up here to be sold.
3d. We have better facilities this year than ever before.
4th. We mean to lead the trade in our line, if the LOWEST prices for the BEST goods will bring it.

REMEMBER,

It is a pleasure, and not trouble, to show goods, when our prices invite opposition, but defy competition.

IN OUR
GLASSWARE DEPARTMENT

We have really done wonders, having reduced the entire line 50 per cent. This is no humbug, but come and be convinced. We are to-day giving more Glassware for one dollar than any other house in town for two dollars.

Having an extraordinary large stock in the above line, we feel justified in saying that we can satisfy the poor and rich, having cheap, medium and the very best Glassware made.

FOR OUR
CROCKERY DEPARTMENT

We can only repeat the above facts,

FRENCH CHINA.

We have just received, direct from France, 25 casks of that celebrated I. Haviland & Co. ELITE CHINA, the very best goods ever imported to this country, which we offer at a great reduction from former quotations.

We have entered into a large contract with the leading

BABY CARRIAGE FACTORY

East, which enables us to give a better carriage for the money than any other house on the coast, being of our own and direct importation.

OUR CUTLERY

Has been greatly reduced. We carry none but the BEST,

J. PUSSELL & CO'S GREEN RIVER CUTLERY.

LAMPS AND CHANDELIERS

We have marked down full one-third.

ALL OUR SILVERWARE AT A GREAT REDUCTION.

Desirous of LEADING the TRADE in our various branches, we have firmly concluded on Large Sales and Small Profits. A call will convince all that only FACTS are stated, and a cordial invitation is now extended to the public of Portland and vicinity to inspect our goods after the great change in prices.

End of the Walking Match.

NEW YORK March 6—A miserably small audience witnessed the conclusion of the pedestrian match last night. Campana retired at 6 18 with a score of 450 miles and 1 lap, thus securing a share of the gate money. Lacouse at [illegible] 40 489½, Curran at 8 10 with 504[illegible], Krohne at 9 25 with 523¾, at 9 45 Panchot stopped having accomplished 541 miles 825 yards. Sullivan's retirement this morning was final with a score of 461 miles and 1 lap. The pedestrians will be poorly rewarded as the exhibition has been a failure financially. The total income from all sources being about $17,000 and expenses $16 450. Panchot is the only one who receives anything worth mentioning, the sweepstakes amounting to $1900

Another Pedestrian Match Begun

A great crowd of people watched the start to-night in the "go as you please" between Albert and Rowell and the square heel and toe walk between Vaughan and O'Leary. O'Leary and Albert represent America and Rowell and Vaughan England. The first mile was made by Rowell in six minutes and thirty two seconds, by Vaughan in nine minutes and twenty seconds and O'Leary in nine minutes and fifty seven seconds. Vaughan on his sixth lap of the third mile led O'Leary by one eighth of a mile. Albert hung to the heels of Rowell and was less than a dozen feet behind him when he finished his fifth mile in thirty-two minutes and forty five seconds after the start. Vaughan had up to that time handled 3¾ miles and O'Leary 3⅛ miles. One hour after the start Rowell and Albert had run 9[illegible] miles, Vaughan had walked 6 miles and O'Leary [illegible] miles

Wreck off Coney Island

NEW YORK March 6—A terrible marine catastrophe has taken place off Coney island. The first great wreck in the history of the beach occurred during a great storm which burst on the coast from the north east last evening. The Italian bark Ajace in ballast from Antwerp to New York with a partial cargo of kerosene barrels became water logged off Rockaway beach. The crew numbered fifteen men including the captain. When it became evident that the bark could not be saved a panic took place among the crew. Captain Morice tried his best to keep the men under discipline but was unable to do so. Heavy seas broke over the vessel washing the men one by one from the wreck. Four of the men in despair against the earnest expostulations of the captain committed suicide by cutting their throats and their bodies were washed overboard. The remainder of the crew with the exception of one man who alone remains to tell their dreadful fate becoming gradually exhausted was washed overboard and lost. The bark first struck Rockaway shoal. The wreck gradually broke up and the poop deck, cabin house and one mast were first seen this morning about [illegible] o'clock off [illegible] miles [illegible] went to the wreck and rescued the only survivor. He could speak English very imperfectly. He gave his name as Peter Sollace and told the story of the disaster. The poop deck came ashore about one hundred yards east of Engman's [illegible]. The sea in front of Coney island is covered with kerosene barrels and parts of the wreck

Shocking Parental Cruelty

Annie Louise Crawford, the child so cruelly treated by her father and step mother on suspicion that she had stolen some household articles and twice set the residence on fire, continued to-day in the supreme court the story of her sufferings. She said the first fire occurred New Year's day. She had nothing to do with it, being in the parlor with Charley Freeman. The second fire occurred January 18th. The witness was in her mother's room with her mother and Mrs Smith. She had nothing to do with the fire. She was taken to a station house twice, once before and once after the fire. The night before Christmas a piece of cord was tied around her arm. After the second fire her arms were bound and she was tied to the knob of the parlor door. For one week after that her hands day and night were strapped to her side. Her father brought home a chain which was placed around her waist and attached to the wall in the dining room. She was loosened at night but the chain was not taken off

Tilden Once More Asked to Settle.

NEW YORK March 5—James M Wilkinson of Marquette Mich, assignee in bankruptcy of William L Wetmore of the same place, to-day filed in the United States circuit court a bill of equity against Samuel J Tilden, in which he prays that the latter be required to render an account of the business done by the New York Iron Mountain Company for the past seven years and also be restrained from conveying or assigning the same. Wilkinson further says that Tilden appropriated $[illegible]0 000 to his own use on the ground that he was entitled to the same for salary and now holds and enjoys large sums of profits to which complainant is entitled

MICHAEL SKOBELEFF

A Brief Account of his Many Deeds of Daring

[From the New York Times]

The brilliant victory of Geok Tepe places the name of Michael Dimitriyevitch Skobeleff nearly if not quite at the head of the list of fighting generals of these warlike times. He is scarcely over thirty five years of age and yet he has played a distinguished part in not less than four campaigns. At twenty-six years he was captain in the staff and was even then considered a clever officer. The Khiva campaign of 1873 was his first war, and when the city was stormed he led those who entered it. Two years later he won his appointment as General in the war which ended by the annexation of Khokand to Russia. One incident of this campaign is fairly characteristic of his reckless daring. Twelve hundred Russians were retreating before a superior force when a night attack was determined on rather as a diversion than as a serious assault upon the enemy. Gen Skobeleff was charged with the execution of the desperate task. He took 150 picked Cossacks whom he divided into three parties and at their head he dashed noisily into the camp of 6 000 men. They deemed it an attack in force, and fled panic stricken, deserting even their arms and baggage. But what is most remarkable is that not one of the attacking force was either killed or wounded. In the next year (1876) he was appointed military governor and commander in-chief of the Russian province embracing Khokand, and this position he held until in 1877, he was ordered to join the staff of the Grand Duke Nicholas. In the Russia Turkish war which followed his brilliant deeds repeatedly commanded attention. He was the first to cross the Danube at Simnitza. In one of the early engagements before Plevna the safety of the Russian retreat was due to him. His capture of Lovatz was the first Russian victory after a long series of reverses, and again, before Plevna, he led forlorn hopes as gayly and as confidently as though defeat was impossible. Of one of these deeds of daring the Times correspondent said at that time: "Three fourths of his battalion were swept from before his eyes. In one single day 8,000 out of his 12 000 soldiers fell—a proportion almost without precedent in the annals of military history. * * He charged the Turkish batteries at the head of the 4th brigade of Chasseurs, 3 700 strong, and in less than an hour 2 000 soldiers were hors de combat. Once he brought up forty-eight pieces to within 600 yards of the enemy's position to cover his infantry, in thirty minutes sixteen cannon were dismounted and when at last he withdrew three guns remained as trophies of his defeat. He came back grimly fighting to the last." In that engagement he was encircled [illegible] red tape, for there were in sight and available troops enough to have enabled [illegible] to hold the [illegible] he had captured and thus not only to have turned that defeat into victory but to have changed the whole current of the war. But there was no one there to give the necessary order and without that [illegible] he would not and did not stir. Skobeleff himself led the assault on horseback [illegible] to the glacis of the redoubt. [illegible] the seventh killed under him in that [illegible] was blown to pieces by a shell [illegible] brought under his [illegible] but he himself escaped unhurt and led the way [illegible] on foot, sword in hand. That is the sort of leader whom soldiers will dare to follow, and it was his services on that day that won for him the rank of lieutenant general. Skobeleff is tall in stature and powerfully built, with small waist and large shoulders. He wears—or did in 1877—his hair cropped as closely as a prize fighter, and has long pendent yellow whiskers and a formidable mustache. He would be called handsome were it not for an unhandsome nose. His eyes are gray and small but bright with intelligence and determination, and his short thin upper lip closes over teeth brilliant as [illegible]. In a battle he likes to wear a white coat and ride a white horse, and is thus as inviting a mark as can be well imagined. The reason is said to be that he is superstitious, as men of action often are, and believes himself invulnerable until his mission has been accomplished.

CONCERNING BEDROOMS

Their Proper Ventilation and the Effect on Their Occupants.

[Sophy Winthrop in Christian Union]

A physician was lately called to prescribe for a young lady who lives in one of the most charming villas in Learnedville.

"Nothing the matter with her," she declared, "nothing but terrible headaches."

Every morning she waked with a headache and it lasted nearly half the day. It had been going on for months—ever since they moved into their new house. The doctor tried all the old remedies and they all failed. Riding and archery were faithfully tested, study and practice were cheerfully given up. Nothing did any good.

"Will you let me see your bedroom?" asked the doctor one day, and he was shown up to the prettiest little nest imaginable.

Nothing wrong about the ventilation. The windows were high and broad, and were [illegible] open every night the patient said. The bed stood in one corner against the wall.

"How do you sleep?" says the doctor.

"On my right side, at the back of the bed, with my face to the wall. Lou likes the front best."

"The dickens she does," says the doctor. "So do I. Will you do me the favor to wheel that bed into the middle of the room and sleep so for a week? Then let me know about the headache."

Doctors are so absurd! The middle of the room indeed. And there were the windows on one side, and the two doors on the two other sides, and the mantel with its Macrame lambrequin on the fourth side. There was no place for the bed but just where it stood in the corner.

"Never mind! Sacrifice your lambrequin," urged the doctor—"just for a week, you know."

The lambrequin was sacrificed, the bed moved where it had free air on both sides and the headaches disappeared.

It may be only an exceptionally delicate system that would be induced to actual headache by breathing all night the reflected air from a wall. Yet possibly some of the morning dullness we know of may be traceable to a like cause. At any rate plenty of breathing space around a bed can only be an advantage to everybody.

In visiting three or four newly built and beautiful houses recently, the lack of a good place for the bed was the most striking feature of the bedrooms. Some of these rooms were finished in shining mahogany, cherry or walnut. Some were hung with rich modern tapestry. All were elegant and a few were [illegible]. But in the most of the best of them, where was the bed to stand? A bay window perhaps would occupy the middle of one side, another window another, a door another, a mantelpiece another.

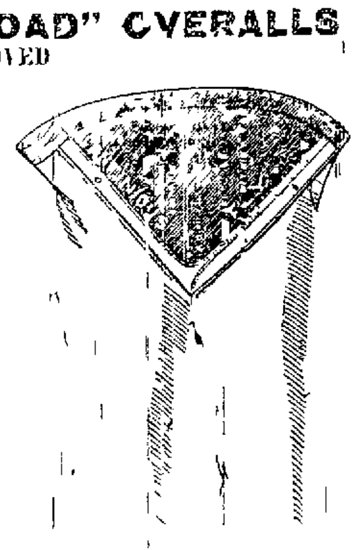
"BOSS OF THE ROAD" OVERALLS IMPROVED



The unparalleled popularity of the "Boss of the Road" Overalls has induced several manufacturers to imitate them with an inferior class of work.

To protect our customers from such imposition; to place an Overall on the market which shall SURPASS all others in strength, while as elegant in cut as the most fastidious could desire, and, above all to furnish an article AS CHEAP AS THE CHEAPEST, we determined to improve them by the addition of our PATENTED CONTINUOUS FLY, Heretofore only used in Standard make of Overalls. With this valuable improvement we guarantee our "Boss of the Road" Overall as the BEST and MOST SERVICEABLE ARTICLE, at the price, to be had in the United States.

Manufacturers and Dealers are specially cautioned against infringement on letters patent covering the Continuous Fly.

Ask your dealer for the "Boss of the Road" Overalls; insist on getting it and take none other
